The Gospel Folk is a non-auditioned choir formed around 20 years ago. The music director is Clinton White, now in his second year with the choir. The choir consists of very friendly folk, who have fun at practices, social events and performances. They sing a varied repertoire of gospel, folk, and other songs, usually in four-part harmony

This year The Gospel Folk has a busy performance calendar, with gigs at the Kiama Jazz Festival, in retirement villages and other concerts, including the annual charity concert Songs of Hope at Boorowa. A popular annual event is Carols Under the Stars, held at Pearce shopping centre.

The Gospel Folk always welcomes new choristers and has a program that encourages people interested in coming along to a couple of rehearsals to “try us out” before deciding whether to join. Choir members look after visitors and help them through their first rehearsals, including giving them access to a folder containing all the music.

Can't read music very well? The Gospel Folk don't mind! And there's always someone nearby who can help.
